

14 June 2016

Dear Valued Customer

Subject: Expiration Dating Extension for QConnect CMVGM Lot 426002

The purpose of this memo is to extend the expiration dating of QConnect CMVGM Lot 426002 for Australian and NZ laboratories using assays for the detection of IgG and IgM antibodies to cytomegalovirus.

The expiry dating of QConnect CMVGM, Lot 426002 will be extended to 30 June 2017 for all users in Australia and New Zealand.

QConnect CMVGM Lot 426002 test results for both anti-CMV IgG and IgM were extracted from EDCNet for the period January 2015 to May 2016. There was no noticeable decrease in reactivity over time observed in analysis of all test results or analysis of results from a number testing laboratories using a variety of testing platforms. This observation is consistent with observations from stability testing data. The estimated decrease expected for the extension period was estimated to be negligible.

Please contact NRL with any concerns or queries.

Yours sincerely

Joe Vincini
NRL Quality Assurance
P: +61 (3) 9418 1111
E: info@nrl.gov.au